This pattern was inspired by the Mucha princess patterns Pinky the Pink has made, this one uses the colours of Jasmine which you can find here: <http://tinyurl.com/kq9l9us> (if it hasn't sold out yet as it's a limited edition pattern). Pinky's etsy shop can be found here: <https://www.etsy.com/shop/pinkythepink> with more princesses and much, much more!

All the diagonal stitches are done with straight stitch - so from one point to another with no stops on the way. All of the other lines are backstitch.

When stitching the beads to the embroidery I suggest using the same colour thread as the background you are stitching on, so pink for the pink areas and blue for the blue areas. I attached my beads the quick and "dirty" way: up through the hole where you want the bead to be, put the bead on your thread and then back down through the same hole. This does not give a very neat finish, better would be to do a sort of + or x with the needle going up and down halfway between the cross stitches.

If you prefer you can of course always go with a completely different pallet than the one given! Make it yours if you like, I'm all for it :) Please do leave a message on my blog, <http://magicalquilts.blogspot.com/>, if you make this as I'd love to see the results!

This pattern was given for your own personal use on <http://magicalquilts.blogspot.com/>. You may not sell this pattern, nor may you offer kits with this pattern. If you wish to sell the embroideries made with my patterns please contact me first :)

Please do not post this pattern to other sites but refer back to the blog post. This includes sites such as Pinterest and Facebook! You may of course share your finished results where you like.

Edition note: This is the fixed version of the pattern made on 12th October 2017
