This pattern was inspired by the mucha princess patterns Pinky the Pink has made, this one uses the colours of Rapunzel which you can find here: <http://tinyurl.com/l2wsvtx> (if it hasn't sold out yet as it's a limited edition pattern). Pinky's etsy shop can be found here: <https://www.etsy.com/shop/pinkythepink> with more princesses and much, much more!

This time the 4 pattern sections are all in one pattern, just to make things easier for you! I also made sure that each pattern section printed on a single page so no part patterns on 2 pages.

First is the overview of the front of the pattern - handily labeled "FRONT" so you know what you are looking at when it's printed out. It's a bit hard to read so I split it into 2 sections that you can find on 2 of the other pages.

Next up is the back, this is only blackwork and represents Rapunzel's hair when braided and when loose.

Then the rainbow pattern section is the backstitch pattern for the Rapunzel fob made using false colour settings so you can more easily see the difference between the colours as when I made it using the purples it flowed so well it was next to impossible to see where one started and the other ended.

And last of all is the cross stitch part of the pattern which I made as I realised that the intricate backstitch made the cross stitch difficult to read.

If you prefer you can of course always go with a completely different pallet than the one given! Make it yours if you like, I'm all for it :) Please do leave a message on my blog, <http://magicalquilts.blogspot.com/>, if you make this as I'd love to see the results!

This pattern was given for your own personal use on <http://magicalquilts.blogspot.com/>. You may not sell this pattern, nor may you offer kits with this pattern. If you wish to sell the embroideries made with my patterns please contact me first :)
